TITLE I.—BILL OF RIGHTS.

ARTICLE 1.—All men are created free and equal, and have certain inalienable rights ; among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. To secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed.

ART. 2.—All persons, without regard to race, color, or previous condition, born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, and residents of this State for one year, are citizens of this State. The citizens of this State owe allegiance to the United States ; and this allegiance is paramount to that which they owe to the State. They shall enjoy the same civil, political, and public rights and privileges, and be subject to the same pains and penalties.

ART. 3.—There shall be neither slavery nor involuntary servitude in this State, otherwise than for the punishment of crime, whereof the party shall have been duly convicted.

ART. 4.—The press shall be free ; every citizen may freely speak, write and publish his sentiments on all subjects, being responsible for the abuse of this liberty.

ART. 5.—The right of the people peaceably to assemble and petition the Government, or any department thereof, shall never be abridged.

ART. 6.—Prosecutions shall be by indictment or information. The accused shall be entitled to a speedy public trial by an impartial jury of the parish in which the offence was committed, unless the venue be changed. He shall not be compelled to give evidence against himself ; he shall have the right of being heard by himself or counsel ; he shall have the right of meeting the witnesses face to face, and shall have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor. He shall not be tried twice for the same offense.

ART. 7.—All persons shall be bailable by sufficient securities, unless for capital offenses where the proof is evident, or the presumption great, or unless after conviction, for any crime or offense punishable with death or imprisonment at hard labor. The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended.

ART. 8.—Excessive bail shall not be required ; excessive fines shall not be imposed ; nor cruel or unusual punishments inflicted.

ART. 9.—The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated ; and no warrant shall issue but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, or the person or things to be seized.

ART. 10.—All courts shall be open ; and every person for injury done him in his land, goods, person or reputation, shall have adequate remedy by due process of law, and justice administered without denial or unreasonable delay.

ART. 11.—No law shall be passed fixing the price of manual labor.

ART. 12.—Every person has the natural right to worship God according to the dictates of his conscience. No religious test shall be required as a qualification for office.

ART. 13.—All persons shall enjoy equal rights and privileges upon any conveyance of a public character; and all places of business, or of public resort, or for which a license is required by either State, parish or municipal authority, shall be deemed places of a public character, and shall be opened to the accommodation and patronage of all persons, without distinction or discrimination on account of race or color.

ART. 14.—The rights enumerated in this Title shall not be construed to limit or abridge other rights of the people not herein expressed.

ARTICLE II.—LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

ART. 17.—Representatives shall be chosen on the first Monday in November, every two years ; and the election shall be completed in one day. The General Assembly shall meet annually on the first Monday in January, unless a different day be appointed by law ; and their sessions shall be held at the seat of government.

ART. 18.—Every elector under this Constitution shall be eligible to a seat in the House of Representatives ; and every elector who has reached the age of twenty-five years shall be eligible to the Senate : Provided, That no person shall be a Representative or Senator unless at the time of his election he be a qualified elector of the Representative or Senatorial District from which he is elected.

ART. 19.—Elections for members of the General Assembly shall be held at the several election precincts established by law.
